Budget Process Begins

Planning for the 1994 diocesan budget begins in early 1993, when all programs, committees and groups currently funded receive application forms for '94. Requests for funding should be submitted in early February, so that the Program Budget Committee can begin to draft the '94 budget. The draft must be approved by the Finance & Property Committee and the Diocesan Council before it is sent to the November 1993 Diocesan Convention.

In connection with budget planning, an evening with the Bishops, parish clergy and lay leaders is scheduled for Wednesday, January 27, 7-9:30 p.m., at St. Mary's, Roxborough. Dubbed "Dessert & Discussion with the Bishops," the agenda will provide an opportunity to raise questions and offer suggestions on diocesan budget priorities. Rectors and vicars will receive more information on this shortly.

Midday Concerts at St. Mark's, 1625 Locust Street, Philadelphia, will be held at 12:10 p.m. on Tuesdays in January and February. Each recital features a guest artist; free-will offerings benefit a different area charity each Tuesday. For a complete winter schedule, call St. Mark's, 735-1416.

Insurance Concerns

The Commission on Clergy Salaries & Pensions and the Committee on Finance & Property seek feedback from clergy families and congregations on a potential increase in deductibles and co-pay provisions for 1994 health insurance. Although rates for 1993 are up 32% for active clergy, the Diocese elected not to lower the premiums by raising the deductible and co-pay provisions this year and would like to hear from those affected before making a final decision for 1994. Answers to questions such as "Is the present coverage adequate? How could it be changed? Should there be a public forum in 1993 to discuss health insurance issues?" may be sent to William A. Powell, Diocese of PA, 240 So. 4th St., Philadelphia, PA, 19106.

Preferred Health Care (PHC), the mental health insuror for the Episcopal Church's insurance company, has new representatives as of January 26: Cheryl Rossiter-Edwards, Team Leader (1-800-433-7082) or Kendall Murphy, Clinical Case Manager (1-800-433-7107) are replacing Jean Ellis. Clergy needing information on mental health coverage may contact the diocesan Director of Clergy Support, the Rev. Caroline M. Bruschi (699-3778) or one of the representatives at Preferred Health Care. Persons who have been receiving mental health care and have not heard from PHC that it has been renewed for this year are urged to contact Mrs. Bruschi to insure that their converage will continue.

FROM: William A. Powell

SUBJECT: Health Care for Clergy

DATE: January 15, 1993

Two diocesan commissions are studying the adequacy and affordability of the current health insurance for clergy who have not yet reached retirement age. We are writing to you for your suggestions.

The Canons of the Diocese prescribe health insurance for clergy and their families. See Canon 7, Section 7.8.1 for the exact wording. The committee on Finance and Property is responsible for selecting the coverage. The commission on Clergy Salaries and Pensions is responsible for making recommendations to Finance and Property.

These two groups met a few weeks ago to discuss the 1993 rate increase from Church Insurance Company for clergy who are active - not retired. The members were concerned about the cost of the health insurance: our rates went up 32% in 1993. They decided not to lower the premiums by raising the deductible and co-pay provisions for 1993 on such short notice. Although both groups believe that changing the deductible and co-pay provisions may be necessary for 1994, they agreed not to do so without studying the issues and hearing from people who will be affected, both clergy families and congregations who bear the cost.

Please think about this matter and write to us. Is the coverage adequate? How could it be changed? Should there be a public forum in 1993 to discuss health insurance issues? Would you attend?

Sincerely,

William A. Powell
Diocesan Stewardship Manager

P.S. Direct your responses to the Commission on Clergy Salaries and Pensions, c/o William A. Powell, Diocesan Stewardship Manager, The Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania, 240 South Fourth Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 19106.

Companion Diocese news

A truck purchased for our companion diocese of Mityana, Uganda, by four Pennsylvania parishes has received a joyous welcome in its new home. It will be used in the Mityana Builders Apprenticeship Program to transport men and materials to job sites, as well as for other diocesan activities.

The four parishes are St. David's, Radnor; Trinity, Swarthmore; St. Martin-in-the-Fields, Chestnut Hill; and Redeemer, Bryn Mawr.

Herberta Smith, a nurse and member of St. Mary's, Ardmore, who is presently working in Mityana wrote on January 25 that a shipment of medicine had arrived from the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief. "This community is badly in need of some type of ambulance service. I've had to watch two children die because there was no immediate means of transportation to get them to the hospital. Now that we may not have to spend money to buy drugs, the money can build enough reserve to get such a vehicle." "Bert" notes that the clinic where she is working services 50-70 patients daily "with no testing facilities to know what we are treating. We treat, and God heals them." She plans to return to the United States in June.

Around the Diocese of Pennsylvania
Vol. 3, No. 5 May 1993

Bishop Bartlett is Back

The Rt. Rev. Allen L. Bartlett, Jr, will return from sabbatical on May 1. Among the activities on this stint of his sabbatical, the Bishop and wife Jerrie spent a month (including Easter) in the Holy Land.

Long-range planning begins: congregations can help

All congregations have received copies of a proposed Statement of Purpose for the Diocese and are invited to comment on that document no later than May 28. The Mission Strategy Commission will collect the comments and write a final version of the Statement for the Diocesan Council to review at Council's September meeting.

This fall, the Commission will hold meetings in the Diocese to solicit proposals for implementing ministries arising out of the Statement. Then the Commission will draft a plan for ministry to cover the rest of this decade, which will be presented to the '94 Diocesan Convention for approval.

Questions on this process may be directed to Archdeacon John Midwood at Church House, 627-6434.

Diocesan pledge update

As of April 15, 139 churches out of the 166 congregations in the Diocese had made a pledge for 1993. Forty of those congregations have met or exceeded their asking. Congratulations! Churches that have not pledged are urged to do so promptly. Income estimates for 1994 will be based on this year's income, so pledging in a timely manner will help the Program Budget Committee as it drafts the '94 diocesan program budget.

There may still be room . . .

. . . at the pre-retirement conference for clergy and spouses at the Holiday Inn, Lionville, May 24-25. Attendees will get advice on social security, budgeting, estate planning, insurance and other concerns. Fee: $5. Call Bill Powell at Church House (627-6434) ASAP to register.

Protection Force . . . we can no longer stand by as human rights are violated in a wholesale manner, justice is flaunted and peace in this part of the world hangs in the balance."

By working on an individual step each month and by sharing experience, strength, and hope with each other, members become aware of positive and negative patterns in their ministries. Around the Diocese of Pennsylvania
Vol. 3, No. 7 July/August 1993

Council approves '94 budget

At its June 17 meeting at Trinity, Ambler, Diocesan Council approved a $2,478,347 program budget for 1994. Added to the $664,511 budget for the support of the Episcopate, already set by the Standing Committee, the total proposed diocesan budget for '94 is $3,142,858. This is $20,980 less than the 1993 budget.

The program budget includes our giving to the National Church; work with new missions and aided congregations; congregational support through programs like Christian education, evangelism, and stewardship; advocacy, service and justice ministries; communications; and financial administration. This work is financed by voluntary giving from the parishes and grants from diocesan endowment funds. The Episcopate budget, which supports our Bishops and includes the Archdeacon, clergy deployment, ministry development, and clergy support, is funded by a mandatory assessment on all congregations.

The proposed 1994 diocesan budget will be printed in the September issue of The Pennsylvania Episcopalian. Copies will be sent to all clergy, Convention deputies, wardens and other lay leaders in late August, along with an invitation to attend "Mission & Ministry '94" at the Cathedral on October 2 (see page 2 for details).

The budget will go to the November 5-6 Diocesan Convention for final approval.

Salford Update

The Rev. Anne Ritchings, Organizing Pastor for the Salford Episcopal Mission, has formed a steering committee which will help her with the many tasks involved in developing this new congregation in northwest Montgomery County. Ritchings will soon begin training small group leaders who will lead prayer and Bible study groups with potential members. It is expected that the first advertised, public worship service for the new mission will be sometime in the winter of 1993-4.

Church to meet here in '97

The Executive Council of the Episcopal Church has approved Philadelphia as the site of the 1997 General Convention of the Church. This triennial event would bring over 12,000 deputies, exhibitors, press and guests to the new Convention Center sometime in the summer of '97. It will give our Diocese a chance to "show off" the many wonderful things happening in the Greater Philadelphia area, as well as expose local Episcopalians to the exciting diversity of the wider Church. Executive Council's decision must be ratified by the 1994 General Convention, meeting in Indianapolis.

Come to the Cathedral on October 2

The diocesan staff and the Program Committee of the Cathedral Chapter are sponsoring two distinct, but linked, events at the Cathedral Church of the Saviour, West Philadelphia, on Saturday, October 2.

From 8:30 a.m.-11:30 a.m., clergy and lay leaders are invited to "Mission & Ministry '94," a program focusing on the 1994 program budget and specifically Mission Goal II, which covers the Diocesan Coalition for Mission & Ministry (diocesan missions, aided congregations, and new missions.) Next to our commitment to the National Church, DCMM is the biggest part of the diocesan program budget.

From 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m., the Cathedral Chapter will host a festive luncheon (in the garden, if weather permits) with entertainment. A celebration of Holy Eucharist honoring "The Saints of Philadelphia" (people from our Diocese who have had an impact on the wider Church) will take place at 1 p.m., and a "mystery guest" will preach.

All congregations are urged to take part in both events.

Church responds to flood disaster

All congregations should have received recent mailings from the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief describing financial aid sent to Midwest dioceses affected by recent floods (Iowa, Milwaukee, Missouri, Quincy (IL), Springfield (IL), and West Missouri).

In addition, Helen White, Director of the Christian Education Resource Center, has been collecting local contributions that will be given to the Diocese of Iowa when White attends a meeting of the Model Diocese Project for Children's Ministries in Des Moines August 21-29.

Presiding Bishop Edmond Browning has said, "It is at times like these I realize what a wonderful family the Church is, responding to Christ's commandment that we love our neighbor."

It's not too late to help. Send checks designated "for flood relief" to The Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief, The Episcopal Church Center, 815 Second Ave., New York, NY 10017.

THE RT. REV. ALLEN L. BARTLETT, JR.
BISHOP

LETTER TO CLERGY

October 21, 1993

Dear Brothers and Sisters:

I am pleased to announce the appointment of the Rev. Dr. Melford E. "Bud" Holland as Clergy Deployment Officer and Bishop's Assistant for Ministry in the Diocese of Pennsylvania, effective January 1, 1994. He succeeds the Rev. Dr. Robert Carlson, who has served in this position since 1987 and retires December 31.

Building on the strong work of Bob Carlson, he will oversee the ordination process under my direction, working with aspirants, rectors, the Commission on Ministry and others; will assist parishes and congregations in their search for rectors and assisting clergy; and will work with clergy in career development, continuing education, and deployment.

Widely known in this Diocese, Bud Holland brings a broad range of experience to this position. Rector of St. James' Church, Perkiomen in the Collegeville area since 1982, he has at the same time been Coordinator of the Intern/Supervisor Program for five years, working with newly ordained clergy and their supervisors. He has served as a consultant to the Diocese of Maryland in the same field. With his spouse, Ann, he was Co-Coordinator of the Education for Ministry program in this Diocese and is a certified Trainer of Mentors for the University of the South. He has been a frequent consultant to vestries and leader of vestry conferences.

His previous service includes the development of a new congregation in Bridgeport, West Virginia as its first vicar; assistantships in parishes in Denver and Ashville, N.C.; and Coordinator of Program for the Diocese of North Carolina as the Bishop's staff person for program and resources.

A graduate of Wake Forest and the General Theological Seminary, he holds a Master of Theology and Doctor of Ministry from Princeton Theological Seminary. His dissertation was entitled "An Education and Training Program for Supervisors in Intern/Supervisor Program."

Bud and Martha Ann (Henkle) have three children, Craig, Eric, and Mandy.

Please join me in welcoming Bud to this important position.

Faithfully,

Allen L. Bartlett, Jr.

Summary of Action on 1993 Convention Resolutions

RA, On Clergy Financial Assistance Assessment, designates a figure of $60,000 to be raised from an assessment of all congregations, with $40,000 to meet financial needs of clergy and $20,000 for the sabbatical leave fund.

RB, On Parish Compensation 1994, sets diocesan guidelines for clergy salaries.

R-BUD-94, The 1994 Diocesan Budget is a $3,142,858 figure, which includes a $664,511 assessment for support of the Episcopate and $2,478,347 to be raised through parish pledges.

R5, On Proposed Changes in the Diocesan Canons, was in two parts: the first changes the canons to allow Diocesan Council members filling unexpired terms of other members to be eligible for election to two additional three-year terms (previously the canon said Council members could serve no more than six years).

The second part of R-5 changes the Standing Orders of Convention to give the Resolutions Committee the power to refer resolutions to diocesan committees before Convention, with the proviso that the committee to which such a resolution is referred must make recommendations on its proposed deposition at the next Diocesan Convention.

R-6, A Proposed Standing Resolution on Tolerance, was referred to an ad-hoc committee, to be appointed by the Bishop, reflecting all segments of opinion in the Diocese. The committee's charge is to bring a resolution on the unity of the Church to the 1994 Diocesan Convention.

R7, On the Primary Focus of Ministry, was the only resolution defeated by Convention. It stated that the local congregation is the "primary focus and agent" of ministry and "all [diocesan] policy, budgetary and staffing decisions" should reflect that fact. The Resolutions Committee called the resolution's wording and effect, if passed, "unclear." While supporters said the intent of R-7 was to call for a readjustment of priorities on the diocesan and national Church levels, those opposed felt it diminished the parish connection with the wider Church.

R8, On the St. Mary's Family Respite Center, commends this ministry to families affected by HIV/AIDS.

R9, On Lay Benefits, urges all congregations to provide pension and health insurance benefits to lay employees working a minimum of 1,000 hours annually.

R10, On Due Process for Laity Refused the Sacraments, directs that a resolution be sent to the 1994 General Convention asking for a change in the National Church Canons to provide expanded due process for lay persons denied access, or threatened with loss of access, to the Sacraments (specifically the Holy Communion).

A second "resolved clause" was added during the debate, calling on the diocesan Committee on Constitution and Canons to prepare a resolution for the 1994 Diocesan Convention that would change the diocesan canons to require clergy taking such action to inform persons denied of their right of appeal to the Bishop.

R11, On the Use of Alcohol in the Local Church, adopted as a Standing Resolution of Convention, affirms as diocesan policy National Church standards which call for non-alcoholic beverages to be offered whenever alcoholic drinks are served in local congregations.

R12, On the Church and Our Violent World, asks that 1994 be a time for the Diocese to examine the effects of violence on our world and the Church's response. The Advocacy, Service & Justice Commission, which sponsored the resolution, plans to work with the Cathedral Church of the Saviour to sponsor a conference on violence and the Church and will provide congregations with materials to use during the 1994 Lenten season.

R13, On Seafarer Ministries, commends the work of the Seamen's Church Institute with merchant seafarers passing through the ports of the Delaware River and asks that a resolution be submitted to the 1994 General Convention commending the work of the 27 Episcopal-related seafarer missions in the United States.

R14, On Our Companion Diocese Relationship, gives thanks to all those in our Diocese and the Diocese of Mityana, Uganda, involved in a six-year relationship now coming to an end.

R15, On the Merger of St. Barnabas', Haddington, and St. George's, West End, endorsed the coming together of those two churches. The new congregation will be known as St. George St. Barnabas.

R16, On Cessation of Divestment Policy Against South Africa, gives thanks for the decision to end apartheid and move toward democratic government in that country and directs the Church Foundation to cease its divestment policy for all diocesan funds managed by them and to consider the elimination of its Alternative Consolidated Fund (the "South Africa free" fund).

R17, On the St. Dismas Mission Congregation at Graterford Prison, was drafted following the announcement that Howard Gibson, an inmate member of St. Dismas, had been denied leave to attend Convention. It sends "loving greetings" to Gibson and calls on the Governor and Commissioner of Corrections to allow him to attend next year's Convention. (Carnell Griffin, an ex-prisoner, spoke in Gibson's place.)
